Quips and Cranks 2010-2011

"...Haste thee, Nymph, and bring with thee
Jest and youthful Jollity,
Quips, and Cranks, and wanton Wiles,

President Ross made his mark on Davidson College. He helped to set the new strategic plan in motion, maneuvered through today's economic troubles, and never lost count of his days along the way. So of course Davidson was sad to see him leave at the end of fall semester. Tom Ross will certainly be missed, but the whole Davidson family wishes him the best in his new adventures. And we welcome interim president John Kuykendall with open arms.

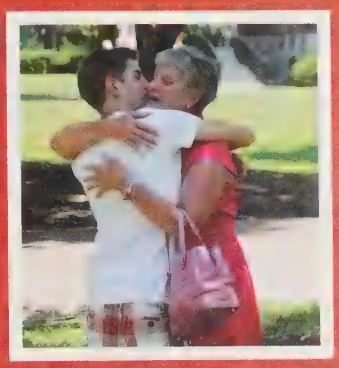
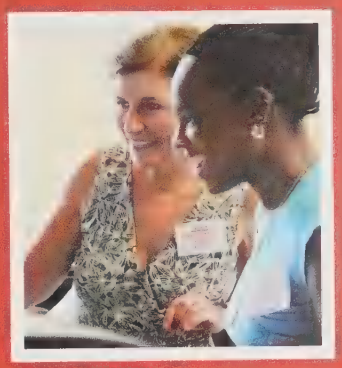
New Student Orientation



A new student says goodbye to his mother at the Farewell Picnic Lunch



Advisors meet with students one-on-one to discuss schedules and any concerns the new students may have

New Student Orientation occurs the five days prior to the start of classes. It is designed to introduce Davidson's new members to the school, campus, and community. Students meet their academic advisors, discuss the chosen summer reading in small groups, take a community service walk around the town of Davidson, and attend the Honor Code signing ceremony. In addition, orientation includes fun activities such as Freshmen Olympics and the Cake Race, which are enjoyed by all!

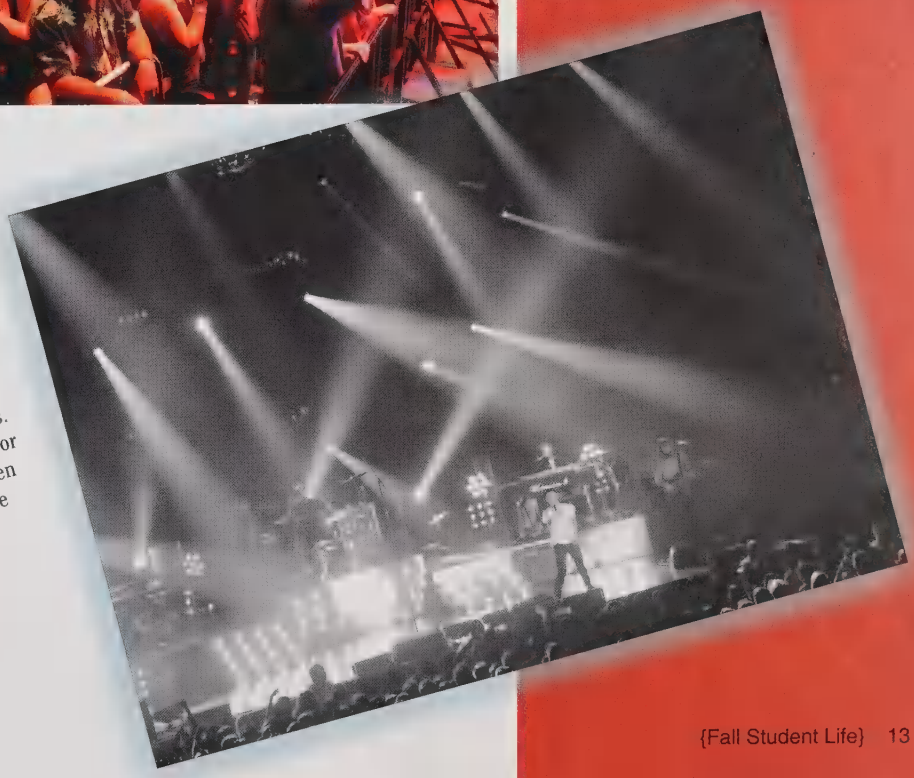
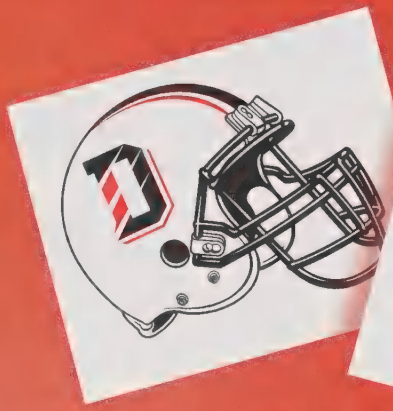
Maroon 5



On August 24, Davidson's annual Big Concert brought three great bands to campus. Students and community members lined up early to enter Baker Sports Complex for the big event. The night began with opening acts V.V. Brown and Kris Allen. Then came the time for the stars of the show: Maroon 5. Davidson was a stop on the band's "Hands All Over" tour. They were a tremendous hit.



Meet the New Wildcat

This year, Davidson Athletics introduced new sports logos and a brand new wildcat. A fan day in mid-August debuted the new designs to a crowd gathered outside Davidson Public Library. Members of the fall sports teams were there to sign autographs and help celebrate the big day.

Opening of the Court

Freshmen enjoyed their First Night Down the hill in mid-September. A night full of making friends and bonding, the Opening of the Court was definitely worth the wait!

Homecoming

Davidson College Homecoming took place November 12-14. Nick Kruter and Marybeth Campeau were named Homecoming King and Queen, as chosen by their peers. Davidson College football played San Diego State in the last game on Richardson Stadium's natural grass. Alumni participated in many events, including a cake race and several luncheons and gatherings, making for a wonderful reunion weekend.

Each year, Davidson families come to visit students and enjoy a weekend on campus. Activities include concerts, classes and the President's dinner.

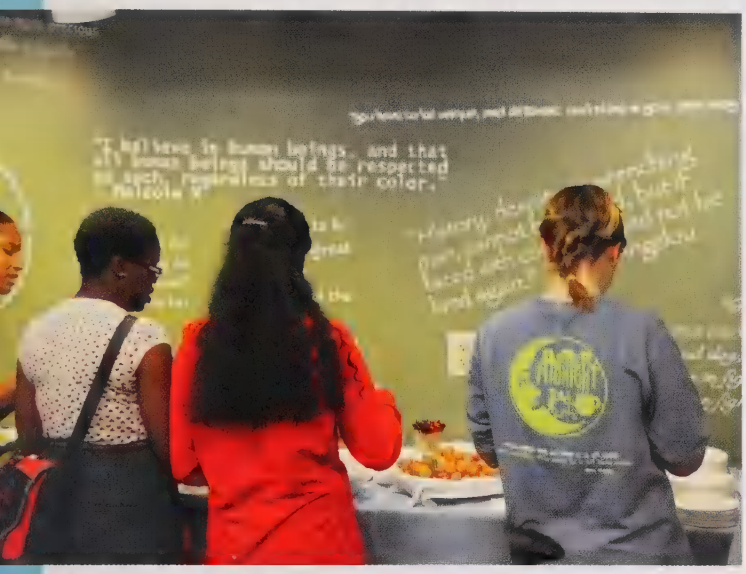
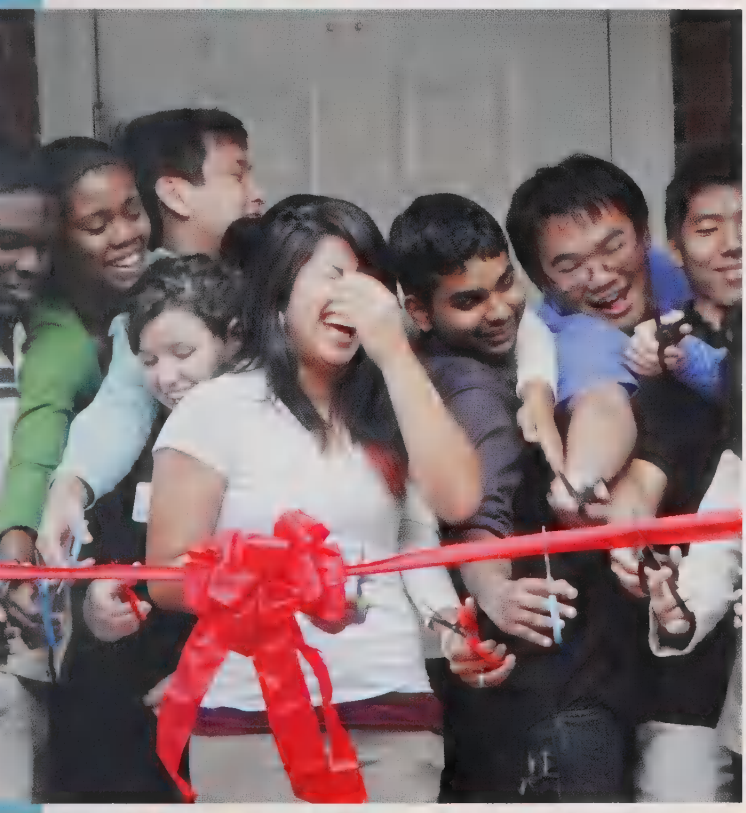
A Campus Facelift

Davidson's campus saw some big changes as the beginnings of the Strategic Plan took shape. The football field got a new turf covering. The new senior apartment, Davis, was completed at the end of fall semester. A much needed path to the health center was built. "F" even got its name changed to Armfield.

Multicultural House



On November 11, Davidson College invited the public to the grand opening of the new Multicultural House, a refurbished Patterson Court house intended to stimulate student interest in and appreciation for diversity. This new space allows groups and individual students a constant and more tangible reminder of the school's mission to accept and celebrate differences and similarities. The Multicultural House hosts performances, exhibitions, lectures, and films throughout the school year.



Theatre Performances

This Jane Austen classic, Pride and Prejudice, was directed by Ann Marie Costa

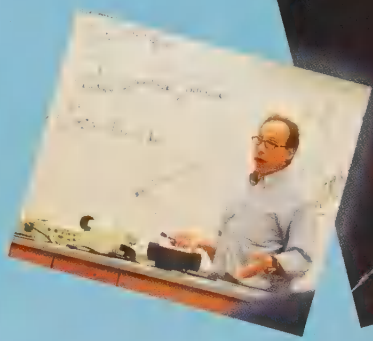
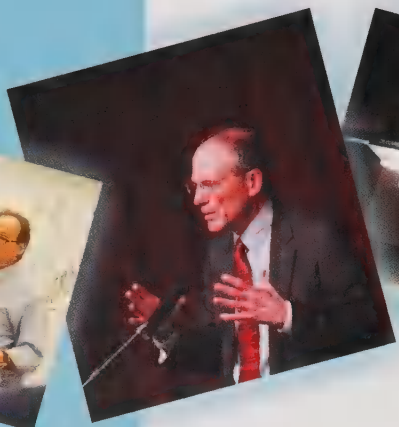
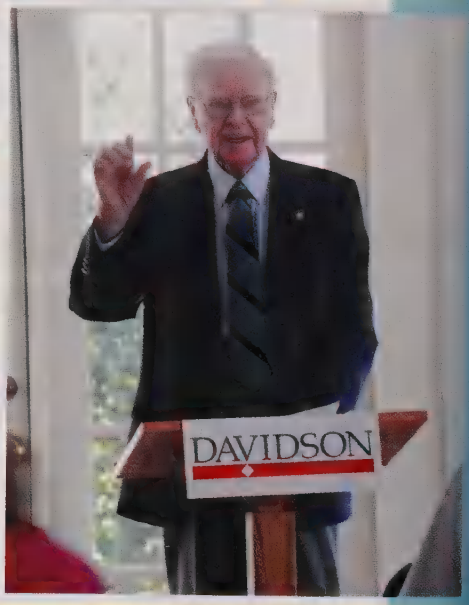
Galileo, written by Bertolt Brecht and directed by Jack Beasley, investigates the life of that famous scientist

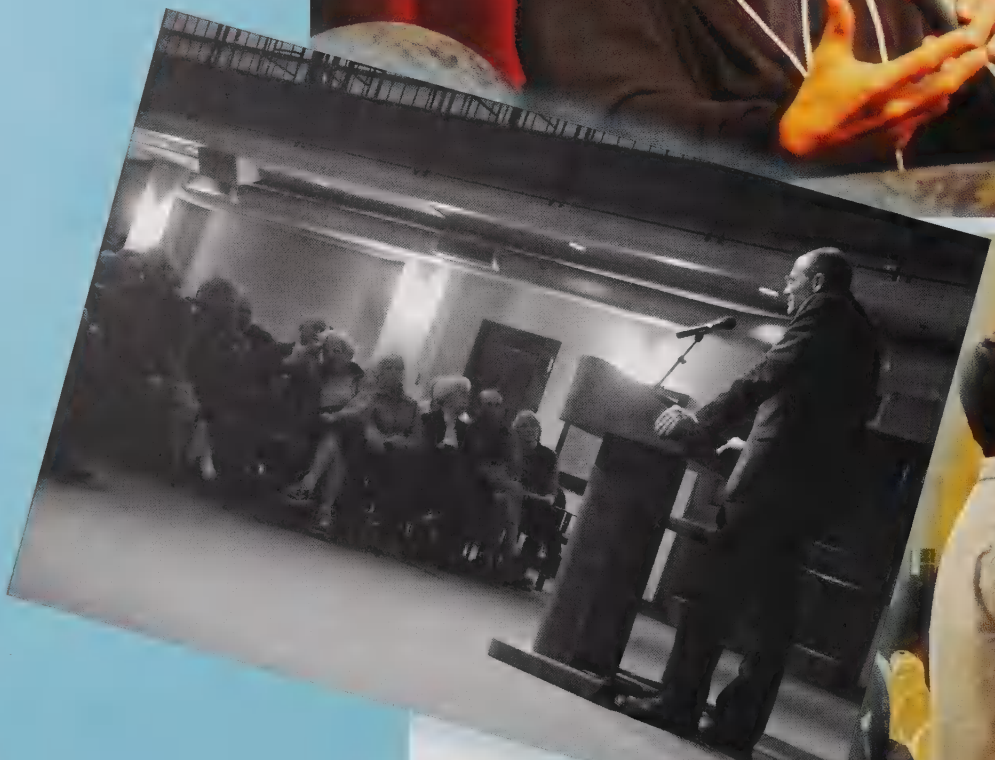
Guest Speakers

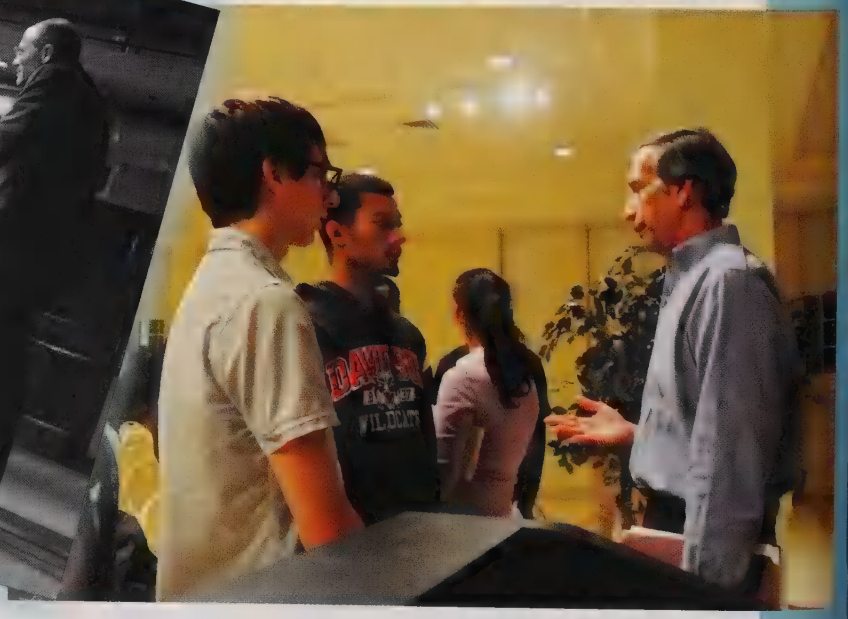




Davidson welcomed many wise and well-known speakers to campus this fall, including Harvey Cox, Junot Diaz, and Mark Noll.

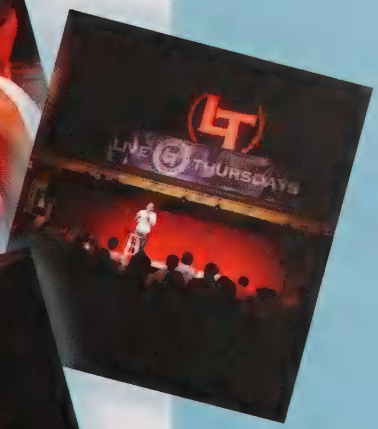






Live Thursdays

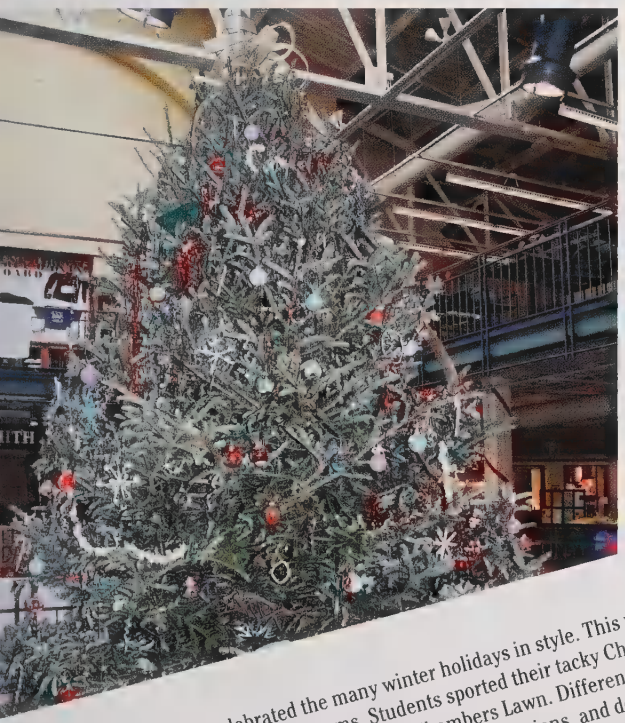
Live Thursdays is a weekly Union Board event featuring student bands, comedians, a cappella groups, dancers, and other acts. It takes place in the Alvarez College Union, 900 Room.



Winter Holidays

What is YOUR favorite part of the holidays?

Hymns and carols brought joy during the holiday season



The diverse student body celebrated the many winter holidays in style. This winter brought snow and festivities in many forms. Students sported their tacky Christmas sweaters, lit menorahs, and sang in harmony on Chambers Lawn. Different groups on campus added to the fun of the season with songs, decorations, and delicious feasts.

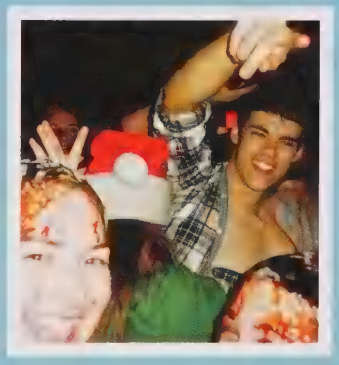
SPRING



Even though ice prevented Self-Selection from occurring on the originally scheduled night, the event was a huge blast! The new-to-Patterson-Court girls enjoyed getting chocolate sauce, caramel sauce, mustard, paint, and an assortment of other goodies dumped on them, while the new-to-Patterson-Court boys engaged in the traditional run-through. All in all, a fun night of bonding with our new Patterson Court families.

The yearbook staff would like to give a special thanks to Bill Giduz, Gavin McFarlin, and Ruth French. This yearbook would not have been possible without their help and patience.

The 2010-2011 Quips and Cranks was published by Jostens Publishing Company. The 240 page book was designed using Jostens' online program Yearbook Avenue. The two main fonts used were Cheltenham Condensed and Wiesbaden Swing Roman. The element tying the book together is the black and white photograph in the bottom corner of each page, which is also seen in the cover and the dividers. Student portraits were taken by Lifetouch, Inc. If sophomores and freshmen did not take a professional photo, catcard pictures were substituted. Juniors had the option to submit a study abroad portrait. Candid photos were provided by students, College Communications, and the Davidson College Athletics Department. Seniors received free books, which were mailed home. Underclassmen picked their books up during a distribution event at the beginning of fall semester 2011.

Editor's Note

The Quips and Cranks had quite the overhaul this year, which parallels the other changes happening around campus.

The 2011 book runs chronologically - a setup that hasn't been used in many years. Instead of finding the yearbook divided into sections, you'll see Halloween leading into fall sports and the Patterson Court organizations making way for Spring Break. This book also better catalogues the year by moving beyond the Q & C's token pages. We covered timely happenings, such as the addition of the senior apartment and the ten-year anniversary of the student union. You'll have much more to remember when you look back at the Quips and Cranks twenty years from now.

Last year's project to include freshmen catcard pictures in the portrait section has continued with full force. Thanks to help from the catcard office, we have nearly every sophomore and freshman represented in the class sections. As this project moves forward, the hope is to have every student in the book by 2013. We're already halfway there.

The much-loved Junior Year Abroad found a place on the Q & C's pages this year. The class of 2012 was able to submit photos for a special section dedicated to their travel adventures. These abroad experiences are as much a part of a year in the life of the college as what happens in its own backyard.

The biggest change for the Quips and Cranks - a change I was proud to be a part of - was the ability to provide seniors with free yearbooks. Every member of the class of 2011 will have a yearbook mailed to their home at zero cost. Years ago, this was a reality for all Davidson students. Through budgeting, a large helping hand from our publishing company, and the support of the Davidson community, we hope to make this vision possible again. Getting free books to our seniors was the first step in the process.

As I conclude this note, I am reminded that the Quips and Cranks is not the only thing experiencing change. For me, this is the last yearbook I will edit in my school career. After being editor of my middle and high school yearbooks, and spending two years editing the Quips and Cranks, this is a bittersweet closing. The adventures (and misadventures) I have had on the yearbook staff while at Davidson have been a huge part of my college experience. My editorship gave me the chance to get into the nooks and crannies of the school. I learned about the college's past, recorded its present, and had a role in guiding its future. I owe a lot to that tiny office hidden in the back corner of the union's top floor.

I feel confident that I am leaving the Quips and Cranks in good hands. I look forward to seeing how the new editors continue the changes that have been started and make some marks of their own.

-Kali Blevins
